

Yom HaGirush

commemorates the 1950s dispossessions and expulsions of some 850,000 Jews from their homes in Iraq, Egypt, Syria, Jordan, and other Arab states.

David Kahtan, son of an Iraqi Jew, set out to understand how his father's community vanished. The result:

The Long Journey Home:
The Untold Story of Iraq's Jews.

The film begins with a question put to the leaders of several Arab states:

"Where are your Jews?"
